AUSTIN — Today, Texas Land Commissioner Dawn Buckingham, M.D. is pleased to announce the winners and finalists of the 2023 Save Texas History Essay Contest, sponsored by the Texas General Land Office's Save Texas History Program. Fourth and seventh-grade students from across the state answered the important question, "What history in your community is worth saving?"

"It has been an honor to read about young Texans' passion for our state's rich history. These students truly produced many incredible essays for this one-of-a-kind competition," said Commissioner Buckingham. "Both of our grand prize winners, Katy and Coltier wrote about unique parts of their communities that bring people and families together in tradition and good fun. Congratulations to this year's winners, the finalists, and all who contributed their creativity and invaluable perspectives to the ongoing story of Texas' history!"

The fourth-grade grand prize winner is Katy Bowman, daughter of Melony and James Bowman. Katy is in Yeraldinne John's class at Doral Academy Texas in Buda. Her essay, My Courthouse, shares her love of Caldwell County's courthouse and square. She particularly loves the many festivals and events it hosts, such as farmers' markets, Courthouse Nights, Run for the Bulls, Día de los Muertos, and the annual Christmas parade. As Katy notes, "People from the community come and listen to music, talk, dance, and laugh together."

The seventh-grade grand prize winner is Coltier Dodd, son of Lauren and Shawn Dodd. Coltier is in Darcey Ham's class at Northside ISD in Vernon. His essay, The Santa Rosa Rodeo Grounds - Keeping Traditions Alive, showcases the only wooden rodeo arena still in use in Texas. Coltier's connection is also personal, with his grandfather and mother having a long history with the local riding club - hopefully, that will continue "for many more generations to come."

The grand prize winners will receive a $500 gift card courtesy of Chris Cantu of Kingsview Partners. The ten finalists, five from each grade, will each receive a $100 gift card courtesy of the Moses Austin Chapter of the Sons of the Republic of Texas and Buck Cole.

All winners and finalists will receive Save Texas History backpacks, a letter of appreciation signed by Texas Land Commissioner Dawn Buckingham, M.D., and other items from the Texas General Land Office and Texas State Historical Association. Teachers of winning students will receive complimentary items, as well.
